OFFICIALS REPORT NO INTERCOLONIAL STRIKE EXPECTED

Department of Railways Not Worried About Threat of Men Quitting.

DEPARTMENT VIEWS SITUATION CALMLY

But Men Persist that they Have Several Grievances to Be Remedied Which Must Have Attention at Once.

Ottawa, July 30.—"We do not anticipate any strike or serious trouble on the intercolonial railway," was the statement of officials regarding the dispute between the men regarding the terms of their contract.

The department is inclined to consider that the situation is not serious and believes that the odds and ends of the service are behind the demand for reparation.

It is believed that the main branches of the service are not behind the movement.

The department further believes that the men suspended are more than willing to give up their positions to risk losing them to others who are waiting for office by going on strike.

The department has not been officially notified of the dispute nor has any demand been for a board of arbitration," said Hon. H. W. Crothers, minister of labour, in answer to inquiry regarding the intercolonial labour dispute.

Mr. Crothers explained that the intercolonial did not come under the industrial dispute and investigating act. Another act, however, the labor and employment act, could be applied. In the case of a strike, the department, however, Mr. Crothers explained that an endeavor had always been made to bring the dispute with the support of both parties under the former act.

Mr. Gidellus said this afternoon that he had received the telegram from the minister of labour which would apply.

He thought that when the man had fully considered the matter they would see for themselves that there would not be any need of a strike.

Both parties were agreed in all but one subject, that clerks would be enrolled in the brotherhood. This would never do, and the J.C.W. would not move on their position in this respect, he said.

Answer to Intercolonial.

Hallifax, N. S., July 30.—President Moses of the Intercolonial Brotherhood left this morning for Moncton, but Secretary W. L. McLean in his absence replied to the statement of the I. C. R. M. Gidellus, manager of the railroads, who had called him to discuss the strike being called because they had access to the files and in the event of a dispute those men must be used.

The railroads were asked to make a public statement.

Mr. Gidellus said that the men were favorable to them they could give the information whether members of union or not and were determined to go on strike.

They had agreed on the question of promotion, but not on pay for porters as porters, messengers, bellhops and waiters.

They are to have a raise of $100 a month if they were eliminated from the schedule.

Mr. McLean claims the proposal six months notice for cancellation was not given.

He said the Intercolonial 10 months ago accepted the proposal.

Mr. McLean said he had no intention of calling on Mr. Gidellus. "The last had the notice of their intentions."

MONTANA SUFFERS FROM HAIL STORM

Many Hundreds of Acres Are Devastated South of Canadian Boundary.

Missoula, July 30.—Settlers arriving from the south reported a serious hail storm along the boundary. It was the worst experienced in many years. Little is known about the damage, but many hundreds of acres were devastated in Montana, just south of the boundary.

The department is inclined to consider that the situation is not serious and believes that the odds and ends of the service are behind the demand for reparation.

Mr. Crothers explained that the intercolonial did not come under the industrial dispute and investigating act. Another act, however, the labor and employment act, could be applied. WEAKER FEELING WINNIPEG WHEAT

Due to Upward Revision in Estimates of Winter Crop—Corn Is Strong.

Winnipeg, July 30.—An upward revision upward in the estimates of the winter wheat crop, based on threshing returns and general satisfaction expressed by grain dealers, has brought about a weaker feeling in wheat. Corn naturally, notwithstanding big profits taking it very strong and it is evidently regarded that the crop is in a very bad way. Prices still tend to decline a little but closed firm.

Oats were dull and weaker; cars in expect 100, in sight 200. Caskets were up 10% to 12%. Liverwort market 14 to 15 lower. Berlin 15 lower. Budapest 34 lower. Antwerp 5% up. Weather conditions ideal for crop. Winnipeg Market.

UNBUSINESS-LIKE METHODS WHICH SPELL DISASTER.

Following the success of the Winnipeg and Grand Trunk issues in London, the city of Vancouver yesterday placed two millions and a half of 4½ per cent. bonds at a premium on very short notice.

Meanwhile newspapers all across the Dominion are carrying the news on their front pages that the city of Edmonton is curtailing its civic programme on account of a shortage of money, due to a failure to place Edmonton bonds.

These contrasting stories of the success of other cities and the failure of Edmonton cannot fail to work a grave injury to the city of Edmonton and to adversely affect intending investors in this city.

Were the announcements true as to the cause of the curtailment, citizens would feel that they were the victims of inevitable conditions, and that, whatever the consequences, they must be borne with resignation. But when it is understood, as it is now becoming plain to everyone in the city, that the cause of the curtailment in Edmonton is not attributable to the Balkan war or to the condition of the money market, but that the responsibility for all this bad advertising rests directly with the mayor, the circumstances are exasperating, to say the least.

Consider the circumstances for a moment.

The bond buyers who accepted the Edmonton issue of no less than eleven millions, which was to have financed the city's construction programme for this season, have not yet defaulted one cent of the amount which they bargained to put up. It is perfectly reasonable to suppose that had the mayor answered a cablegram sent to him by the bond-buyers, instead of ignoring it in a most unbusiness-like manner, as he did, they never would have found it necessary to bring him to a realization of his dependence upon them by a suggestion that they might invoke the war clause, an action which as yet they have not taken. And it is also perfectly plain that by the offer of a large issue of Edmonton school bonds on the London market, in contravention of the city's agreement with the underwriters, at the very time when the underwriters were attempting to place the city issue, the school bonds being offered at a much lower price, the underwriters were placed in a very embarrassing position, to say the least. It is as though a real estate dealer, having a customer for a certain desirable piece of property, were to discover that some other dealer was offering the same customer the same property at ten per cent. less than his price. The untenable position in which the first dealer would find himself is self-evident; yet this is the position in which the mismanagement of the city's financial affairs, in the matter of the school debentures, placed the underwriters of eleven millions of city bonds.

To make matters even worse, so it is reported, contractors who had accepted city bonds in part payment for city work appeared at the same time in the same market with another allotment of city bonds which were offered at a lower price than the underwriters were compelled to ask in order to recoup themselves against the figure at which they were buying the city's eleven million issue. Quite clearly this was not business and the bond-buyers may be pardoned if they showed a trace of resentment against an administration which would handle such a large and vital matter in such a school-boy manner.

But even in spite of all this, there is nothing on record in the city hall to the very present moment to show that the bond buyers did not intend to make good every dollar of the amount involved in the issue.

They did ask for an extension of time upon the last payment, it is true, but it must be taken into consideration that, owing again to the city's unbusiness-like method of handling its finance, some gigantic blunders had been discovered in the estimates of the amount of money required for certain work, a circumstance which made it necessary for those advancing the money to go slow lest they discover in the finish that the bond issue had been so mismanaged as to throw a doubt upon the securities which they were placing with their customers.

To make a bad matter worse, the still more inexcusable folly becomes apparent that in spite of the fact that the installments for a very large part of the bond issue are now due and paid, or about to come due within a couple of days, the debentures have not yet reached the printers' hands, let alone the hands of the underwriters. In order to meet their agreement with the city, the underwriters would, therefore, have to place the money to the city's credit before the city had fulfilled so much of its part of the arrangement as to have the debentures printed. Clearly this is not business, but blundering mismanagement.

In the face of all this, and in spite of the fact that the underwriters have not even yet expressed any intention to furnish the funds as rapidly as the city carries out its part of the agreement entered into last spring, the mayor takes the initiative in demanding a curtailment of the city's expenditures; a curtailment which is being advertised to the city's disadvantage all over the world and which it is quite clear would not have been necessary had the mayor been a business man capable of transacting the city's business with the same precision that would have been demanded of him had he been the president of a private company.

To make a bad matter worse, the curtailment itself is being carried out in a thoroughly irregular manner, in contravention of the provision of the charter of which the mayor or claims authorship, and in a manner which the mayor, being a lawyer, must himself know is so irregular that it is very doubtful if it would stand law in any court.

To effect this curtailment, the mayor and his council majority name a certain select committee of four from among the mayor's council ring "with power to act." Having written the charter, the mayor himself must know that in the matter of expenditure the handling of the public's money is specifically placed in the hands of the commissioners, and that there is nothing in the Edmonton city charter which gives the council the right to delegate this authority to any committee, council committee or otherwise, "with power to act." In other words, the mayor is setting his own charter at defiance when he places the curtailment of the city's expenditure in the hands of a committee of four who meet behind closed doors to set aside the programme of civic construction authorized by the rate-payers when they voted upon the money bylaws.

Not only is the mayor not obeying his own charter, but he is placing this select committee of four, to whom he has delegated power to act, in a position of autocratic authority over the entire voting strength of the burgesses of the city of Edmonton.

Such unbusiness-like proceeding as this, toward the bond-buyers on the one hand and the burgesses on the other, cannot fail to work disaster to the city of Edmonton unless it fails to call it to somewhere.

HOW THE STREET NUMBERING SCHEME WOULD WORK OUT.

It has been suggested that the plan of Mayor Short in re-designating the city streets might be used also on the new civic block, that is to commence at the top and call it floor one, increasing downward to the ground floor. Then in the event of another story being added to the building the citizen who is desirous of knowing how this additional floor would be designated will have the same problem as the man who wants to know how the streets beyond First street and First avenue will be designated under the mayor's new scheme. It will take a very long stretch of the imagination to figure out how this system will work out satisfactorily. Many of the citizens are bitterly opposed to this new system and the indications are that the council will hear a number of delegations on this question before the committee appointed at last night's council meeting gets very far ahead with the new sys-

FEATS AT NIAGARA.

The first of Blondin's footbridges at Niagara was performed 34 years ago yesterday, when he walked across the falls and the whirlpool rapids in a barrel. He carried a balancing pole 40 feet long and weighing 45 pounds. Several times thereafter he made the performance, once on a barrow, once on a barrow across, and on another occasion carrying a man, Harry Colcord, his manager. In 1869 Blondin walked across on stilts and this performance was witnessed by King Edward VII, later King Edward VIII.

"I dare say their bethrotal in the mountains was very romantic, but I wouldn't like to propose to a girl near the falls," said a young man yesterday. "Why not there?" "Because I'd be afraid she might drown me over!"—Baltimore American.

Horrible Story of Maltreatment from Colonsay District

Meacham Woman Terribly Beaten by Her Husband—Mounted Police Capture Culprit Who is Ex-convict.

Saskatoon, July 30.—One of the most horrible cases of maltreatment in the annals of crime in this province is still alleged to have happened at Meacham. Misses Mazeau, a student, was beaten about 14 miles from Colonsay, upon her wife, last Friday night about 10 o'clock. The woman was beaten into unconsciousness, having taken refuge with a steel nail bayonet indiscriminately upon her. Five deep lashes were inflicted in her head, while her limbs and other parts of her body had been beaten to a pulp. It is stated that the accused was freed from jail. The offence for which he was serving was for shooting off a gun four years.

After subduing his wife to this inhuman punishment, Mazeau left the house before the morning, beating his way across the prairie some miles. He is now four years.

CROTHERS FINDS WEST PROMISING FOR THE FUTURE

There Is Nothing in Conditions Existing to Cause Any Great Alarm

SECTION IS PROSPEROUS AND ITS PEOPLE CONTENT

Crop Outlook Good, Building Operations Steady and Wages Paid to the Workers Are High.

Ottawa, July 30.—Hon. T. W. Ormsby, who arrived here yesterday from his trip to the interior, said he would particularly like to inquire into the long standing labor difficulty on Vancouver Island. The chief of the trouble, said the minister, is the organization of the Mine Workers' Union, and neither side seems disposed to give up.

The minister appointed Samuel Price, K.C., of St. Thomas, to make a detailed inquiry, and before taking any action will await his report.

"Notwithstanding pessimistic reports that occasionally reach the east," said the minister, "I fail to find anything but excellent conditions to cause any great alarm."

Crop Prospects Excellent.

"While this year's crop may not be a record one, it will be far better than what was expected some weeks ago. The grain operators are steady, employment will not go down below the usual fair, wages high, a special class of immigrants from the old land, and so on. The States bring in wheat in many cases at less than the average amount of wheat, are pouring into the country, and I therefore believe from what I have seen that, everything considered, the grain market will be in a good position."

The minister also learned to look at western properties through blue glasses, and while there are certain questions arising which have not been settled, he believes that these are based on a young and rapidly expanding country and will gradually be adjusted or adjusted to the proper basis.

Mr. Ormsby was particularly interested in the marvelous development of British Columbia and everywhere he looked he saw the marks of prosperity which are the result of the great engineering work done by a number of important questions which are under the jurisdiction of that department, including the disposal of lands to the Indians and to the government of British Columbia.

For the interior department he independently looked up a scheme for re-estimating the value of land in the interior of British Columbia. An elaborate plan has been evolved by a Vancouver engineer, W. L. McKay, and is under consideration.

RUSSIAN RULER IN RANKS AS PRIVATE

Czar Takes Means of Finding Out the Toils and Duties of Common Soldier.

London, July 30.—The daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent writes: "A 'crowded private,' under Imperial protection, just published in Russia, relating to a book made by Emperor Nicholas, as a fully accounted private, in order to gain personal experience as a soldier and duties of a commoner."

There is a well known portrait of the present Russian monarch as an ordinary infantry man, and he is dressed in the rank and file uniform of the sixteenth regiment, of Emperor Alexander III's company.

He was dressed as a rite man by his subalterns who strapped on his majesty's shoulders and waited on the usual overcoat, waist, with 12 pounds of arms, a tricorn hat, a belt, a sabre, a gun, bag, etc., altogether weighing nearly three-quarters of a hundred-weight, exclusive of the weight of the rifle.

After the subaltern had instructed the emperor as to the proper use and managing of each article, his majesty seated himself on the rifle and remained until about half past seven, giving the salut of a private soldier to the officers whom he met on his way to the regimental barracks. His soldiers' tune was saturated with inspiration.

The next day his Czar entered himself according to the regulations on the spiritual role as "Private Nicholas Romanoff, married, of the Orthodox faith, coming from Tsarkoe Selo."

NEW ALBANIA IS TO HAVE PRINCE AS STATE RULER

In the Meantime a Commission of Control Will Organize Administration

GREEKS STILL OPERATE ON LAND AND SEA

Defeated Bulgars Turn Upon Pursuers and a Fierce Battle Ensues Over an Extended Front

London, July 30.—The ambassadorial conference yesterday settled the status of New Albania, which had been nominated six months hence to rule over the new state. In the meantime a commission of control, composed of one representative of each power, will organize the administration with the aid of a Swedish officered gendarmerie.

The conference has done nothing officially in the matter of securing Turkey, and as the strongest feeling is being manifested at indignation meetings throughout India against any attempt to impose a British suzerainty, it is not likely that the British government would be anxious to fulfill such a condition.

The Greeks are still operating by sea and by land. The Bulgars, who were defeated recently at Kresna Pass, turned upon the pursuing Greeks to the north at the Dardanelles. Pursuit being assured, the reinforced Bulgars are making a desperate attempt to recuperate their lost positions.

The Greeks last night throughout Sunday, during which the Greeks three times were ejected at the point of the bayonet from one position. The fighting took place over an extended front, and both sides suffered heavily.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst Adds Something to Her Refusal to Eat or to Drink

London, July 30.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, who again yesterday laid claim to the title of "sleep strike," has developed a new method of worrying the prison authorities. She is in a "sleep strike" besides reading books.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was weaker yesterday as the result of her exertion on Monday at the Pavilion meeting.

FOREIGN CONSULS PROTEST AGAINST SHANGHAI'S PERIL

Complain to Northern Admirals About the Firing over the City.

FOUR POLICEMEN KILLED THE FRENCH CONCESSIONS

Result of the Bombardment—

There Were Many Narrow Escapes and Numerous Foreign Buildings Damaged.

Shanghai, July 30.—The foreign consuls yesterday made a protest to the northern admirals against firing over Shanghai. The naval command of the international fleet discussed the question of warning the belligerents of this, but have reached no decision as yet as to their further procedure in the matter.

Two Chinese and two Annamite soldiers were killed in the French concession in Shanghai, and a bomb exploded.

There was no getting fighting today, but rebels abandoned some of their camps, but this is not thought to be a guarantee that they will not resume hostilities.

An unpleasant incident occurred at Chapei yesterday. Captain Harriet of the municipal police, was shot at, but not wounded. Immediately a demonstration in force was made by the blue jacks, who took up arms, foreigners outside and advised Chapei to move into the centre of the city.

March to Arsenals.

Northern army reinforcement estimated to number 4,000 men with two cruisers arrived in the Yangtze Tuesday and began landing 20 miles below Wu Sung, apparently with a view to marching to the arsenals here.

Practically all the civilians have left Wu Sung, for whom the exchange of a bombardment, which, up to this time, has inexplicably delayed. Shanghai is exposed to an influx of refugees from the surrounding districts. Considerable damage has been done to the arsenals by fire which were partly due to bursting shells and partly to incendiary bombs. A view to looting, which has been extending to foreign settlements however, has been comparatively free from this evil.

A serious prospect is a shortage of food, due to the cutting of the small roads connecting cities from Ching Ho-pu.

One awkward result of the warfare in the height of summer is that lack of decent clothing, all the laundry having been sent to Ning Po, province of Chekiang, whence their confraternity emanates.

"Long Way Certain."

London, July 30.—"The southerners profiting by their earlier mistakes, are now sending men and getting large supplies of ammunition," says the Telegraph's Peking correspondent. "A long and wearisome war seems certain. I understand that a hundred Japanese officers will be sent to Canton, which contains 40,000 good troops."

The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent reports the native city there on fire, and there is a report that the British are attacking the arsenals.

This despatch bears no date, and probably refers to Monday's fighting.

The correspondent had a interview with Dr. Lin Tsin Fang former Chinese minister to Washington, who thinks President Yuan Shih Kai's uncompromising policy dangerous. He blames Edward A. Miano, a member of the stock exchange, to appear tomorrow to offer an explanation of his "business conduct." Dr. Lin also said on last Saturday's of $5 United States government's at 95%, which he secured by the currency assets of the banks—an additional amount equal to 70 per cent of the bonds secured by the currency.

Mr. McAdoo and his conference certainly ought to have known that they could have no other effect than to give the government a monopoly of the currency bill, and to authorize the issue of its bonds to the extent of $100 million which could be issued.

Mr. Hepburn, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank, in a statement to the press, said that he was speaking as a national bank official.

Edward A. Manio, a member of the stock exchange, is to appear tomorrow to offer an explanation of his "business conduct."

Business men cause much comment in brokerage circles because the seller stipulated a 20 day's option for delivery of the bonds. Such contracts are not unusual in the market for stocks and bonds, but rarely occur in the government bond department.

Mr. Hepburn said that the price of the currency bill has dropped to 95%.

UMPS TAYLOR STILL IN BAD WITH HAT FANS

Saskatoon Defeats Medicine Hat Six to One in Umpire Batting Baseball Exhibition.

Medicine Hat, July 30.—The Quakers were unable to keep their bats well scattered, and the Quakers made it four straight wins for them by 10 to one score.

At Canada Park here a shut out, the Hat scoring their only run in the eighth inning at the end of which session the game was called on account of darkness.

Brown and Beers were both hit freely, but with men on bases the visitors' pitcher was invisible, as evidenced by the fact that 11 Hatters died on the sacks.

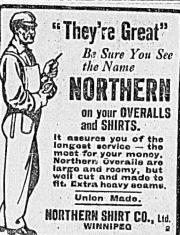

Hurley's men have hit their stride well, and they treated the visitors the same way, while they handed Schaeffer on Monday, only it was a milder concession.

During the day game in another session from the fans tonight, calling the game so early, while last night he let the ball go until it was impossible to see the ball on the field.

The first session of the game were bright, the visitors and locals being right on their toes. In the second session, a stolen base with a wild throw from the catcher gave the visitors their first run. A base of balls, a single, a triple, the latter by Hurley, and two singles sent Harris home in the eighth with the visitors three runs in the fourth.

Crookshanks hit a homer in the fifth and Gwyn a triple; the latter died on. The Quakers came up with three single, a single, a double, a foul play hit them down, they getting but one run. Time and again the local had three men on, but it was invariably with two errors. An error by Winters and two singles sent Harris home in the eighth with the Hat's only run. Score:

Saskatoon	001 310 0	—	6 11	1
Medicine Hat	000 000 0	—	10	0
Batteries: Beers and Winters; Brown and Ladd.

BROOKLYN'S GREAT SOUTHPAW PITCHER AND HIS "DEAD GAME" CATCHER

Injuries have laid low the Brooklyn catchers and unless Manager Joe Bush has success in picking up a good receiver the Doves threat will slip down the National League sidebar with a dull thud.

Rucker, who is considered the best of the bunch, is just now, playing with an injured hand and is far from fit, but crippled though he is, he played a wonderful game against the Quakers yesterday evening, making no try to steal in the game, which Rucker won from the Tribe Marquard before 25,000 fans.

Ervin, Brooklyn's first string catcher, is lame with a broken toe, as the result of falling to the ground. Heinie Zimmerman at the plate when the Doves were in Chicago and will not be able to play for several weeks.

Brooklyn's new manager, Shuster, is with a winning team for the first time since he left Brooklyn. Rucker is the greatest left-hander in the National league and one of the very best pitchers in the game. He pitched a perfect ball for the team even in the days when Brooklyn was always in the second division. Now the team is "playing the game" and Shuster's main idea is getting just how often a pitcher he really is. His performance in shutting out the Owls with four hits was one of the neatest bits of pitching staged in the National league this summer.
